CREDENTIALS

All media credential requests for SDSU men's basketball home games should be directed to associate sports information director Ryan Sweeter or assistant athletic director for sports information Jason Hove at least 24 hours before the event.

The sports information office may choose to mail credentials if they receive the request a week or more in advance. Otherwise, credentials may be picked up at the Jackrabbit ticket office inside the Stanley J. Marshall HPER Center on weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., or at the Frost Arena will-call window 60 minutes prior to the start of the event.

SDSU allows courtside access in Frost Arena only to working media. Media requiring access to phone lines and/or wired Internet should contact the SDSU sports information office in advance of the game to assist in seating assignments, etc. SDSU does provide a free wireless Internet signal.

SDSU permits live blogging with descriptions of the event, but doesn't permit live video streaming of either game action or postgame press conferences. Video may be archived and posted to web sites following the conclusion of the event.

—ALL CREDENTIALS ARE NON-TRANSFERABLE—

PHOTOGRAPHERS

The South Dakota State Athletic Department asks that photographers (live and still) do not interfere with the sight lines of spectators. Video may be shot from the upper-level track on the east, west and south sides of Frost Arena. At court level, photographers must remain outside the team areas and in a position as to not interfere with the game.

STATISTICS

The South Dakota State Sports Information Office keeps official statistics and distributes the final statistics to teams and members of the media at the conclusion of the game.

POST-GAME PRESS CONFERENCE

A post-game press conference may be held after home games in the HPER Center Conference Room located on the second floor of the Stanley J. Marshall HPER Center. The visiting team goes first, followed by SDSU players and coaches.

The following guidelines apply specifically to Internet sites:

- No more than two people working for the official web site of the opponent and/or its official conference site will be issued credentials.
- Web sites whose content centers around message boards and chat rooms where users can post anonymous information and/or rumors are ineligible for any consideration for credentials or access.
- Credentials will not be granted to any agency operating sites that are in any way affiliated with gambling, or to freelance or fan-based sites not affiliated with a legitimate news-gathering organization.

The final decision for credentials remains at the sole discretion of SDSU sports information personnel. Failure to abide by the guidelines outlined on this page may result in revocation of media credentials.

ON THE WEB AT GOJACKS.COM

Get all the latest news releases, game recaps and box scores. Read the latest game notes, updated roster and statistics or buy photos from recent home games.

Join the Jackrabbit Extra for complete video coverage, including streaming video of every home game and select road games. Starting in 2014-15, SDSU streams all games, home and on the road, at no charge on the Jackrabbit Extra on GoJacks.com.

INTERVIEW POLICY

The South Dakota State Sports Information Office strives to comply with all legitimate interview requests for Jackrabbit coaches, student-athletes and administrators in a timely fashion.

Interview times can be arranged through the Sports Information office or through the coach of the sport involved, preferably arranged 24 hours in advance Monday through Thursday.

Media members may not contact student-athletes directly without approval.

The SDSU Sports Information office does not release the phone numbers of student-athletes to the media, and return calls must be made collect, or via a toll free number, unless the student-athlete does the interview from the sports information or coaches office.

The media may not interview student-athletes prior to a contest on the day of the game, but may do so 10 minutes after the conclusion of contests by contacting a member of the sports information staff or coaching staff.

The 2014-15 season got off to an early start for South Dakota State with four games in a 10-day trip to Brazil in August, where the Jackrabbits faced a pair of teams from the top league in the country. The Jacks posted a 1-1 mark against the top competition and a 3-1 mark overall, but came away from the trip with much more than just three wins and a loss.

"They play a different brand of basketball in Brazil, a more physical game than we're used to in The Summit League," head coach Scott Nagy said. "We can't play that physical here in the U.S., but I think that helped us develop some toughness that we can only get in game situations."

The trip started with a loss to Pinheiros, one of the best teams in the best professional league in Brazil. Despite losing the game after traveling for nearly 24 straight hours, the game set the stage for the trip, and maybe the season.

"That's probably the best team we'll play all season, and I don't mean just in Brazil," Nagy said. "They're all grown men and professional basketball players, and playing them can only help us in a long season."

SDSU recovered from their lone loss with convincing wins in each of the final three games, which gave every player an opportunity to play significant minutes and get a better understanding of how Nagy likes to coach in game situations.

"I think the big thing that we got out of this trip, was that we had some freshmen get some good experience and really gain some confidence, and we're going to need those guys to play for us,"

Jackrabbit senior CODY LARSON started all 32 games as a junior, averaging 13.1 points and 7.0 rebounds per game in earning all-league second team and newcomer team honors

Nagy said. "We have a lot to learn, but the best thing is that our young guys got lots of playing time and some good experience."

After graduating the remaining core players on the roster that helped lead the Jackrabbits to three straight postseason appearances, including two NCAA Tournaments, the extra practices that came with the four games in Brazil benefits the current group Jackrabbits that includes two returning starters, nine underclassmen and two junior transfers on the 16-man roster.

"We're a young basketball team, so the Brazil trip gave us a chance to figure out some things and really give us a head start to the season," Nagy said. "We focused on fundamentals and gave the players an idea of what we expect out of them when the season starts."

The only player on the roster to play in all 32 games last season, senior Cody Larson started all of those games, and leads the group of returning players. The Sioux Falls native averaged more than 13 points and seven rebounds per game in his junior season, earning All-Summit League second team and all-newcomer team honors in the process. He enters his senior season as the team's lone preseason all-league team selection and should make that team at the end of the season as well, as the Jackrabbit offense starts with him.

"Before Cody, we played a more perimeter game, but last year we worked more of an inside out game, trying to get the ball to him in the post," Nagy said. "We want to keep working the ball inside this year and run our offense through him first."

Junior Jake Bittle battled injuries for much of the season, but still played in 23 games with 20 starts as a sophomore. He averaged 8.5 points and 4.6 points per game overall, but scored in double figures in 10 games and eclipsed the 10-rebound mark twice.

"Jake is the anchor of our defense, and keeping him healthy for a full season is big for our basketball team," Nagy said. "We know that he can score as well, but we want him on the floor for his defense, the scoring part takes care of itself."

With just two starters returning and a young roster overall, the preseason poll of head coaches, sports information directors and select media tabbed the Jackrabbits fourth in the preseason poll, which did not come as a surprise to Nagy.

"I think that because we lost four seniors and we have a lot of players that are unproven, nine of which have never played a game for us, I think it's hard for people to predict where we would finish," Nagy said. "So it doesn't surprise me that's where we were picked."

The Jacks came in fourth in the preseason poll Fort Wayne, Denver and Oral Roberts, which returns to The Summit League in 2014-15 after spending the last two seasons in the Southland Conference. For the complete Summit League preseason poll and preseason all-league teams, turn to page 43.

Junior JAKE BITTLE battled injuries in each of his first two seasons, but returns at full strength for his junior season to lead the Jackrabbit defense

The Schedule

The 2014-15 schedule includes 13 home games, along with a game on Nov. 30, at the Sanford Pentagon in Sioux Falls against Florida Gulf Coast and a three-team tournament hosted by Utah State in December, where the Jacks play the host Aggies, Idaho State and CSU Bakersfield. The trip to Utah wraps up with a game at Utah in Salt Lake City on Dec. 23.

"It's always a challenge for us to get the right balance of home and away games," head coach Scott Nagy said. "We think the entire schedule is very challenging and offers our fans a competitive slate of home games."

The regular season opens on Nov. 14, at Buffalo, followed by a game at Idaho on Nov. 17, the first of two games against the Vandals, who return to Brookings on Dec. 13.

The home slate opens on Nov. 21 against North Dakota, followed by a game against Chadron State on Nov. 25. SDSU also hosts Wayne State College on Dec. 3, and Kansas City on Dec. 6.

Other non-conference road games include contests at St. Louis on Dec. 9, and at Northern Iowa on Dec. 28.

The Summit League starts on Jan. 2, at Denver, with a game at defending league champion North Dakota State two days later.

The first home league contest pits the Jacks against Western Illinois on Jan. 7.

The season concludes with The Summit League Championships, which returns to Sioux Falls for a seventh consecutive season on March 7-10, the first season in the new Denny Sanford PREMIER Center.

Scott Nagy returns for his 20th season at South Dakota State after guiding the Jackrabbits to three straight postseason appearances, which includes back-to-back NCAA Tournament berths in 2012 and 2013, and a bid to the College Basketball Invitational in 2014. He also led the Jacks to eight NCAA Tournaments at the Division II level.

The most prolific coach in school history, Nagy seems to hit a personal or team milestone every season, with the latest being the program's 1,400th win on March 1, 2014 against South Dakota in the final game of the 2013-14 regular season.

The 2012-13 season saw a slough of milestones for Nagy, both individual and team related, starting on Dec. 22, 2012, with a win at No. 16 New Mexico, the Jacks first-ever win over a ranked team. The season culminated with the team's second straight NCAA Tournament appearance and included the Jackrabbits second straight undefeated season at home, which pushed the home winning streak to 30 in a row, a school record and the longest streak in all of Division I basketball at the start of the 2013-14 season.

All those milestones came on the heels of a record-setting 2011-12 season that saw Nagy win his 300th career game on Dec. 28, 2011, a 94-58 win over IPFW at Frost Arena, his Jackrabbits tied a school record with 27 wins and earned a chance to dance for the first time in Division I.

In his 19 years at SDSU, Nagy guided the Jackrabbits through the transition from Division II to Division I, built an impressive 360-221 record (.620 winning percentage) at the Division I and Division II levels, and guided the Jacks to North Central Conference championships in 1996, 1997, 1998 and 2002, adding Summit League Tournament titles in 2012 and 2013, along with a Summit League regular season title in 2013.

Nagy also directed the Jacks to the NCAA Regional Tournament from 1996-1998 and from 2000-2004, and hosted the North Central Regional Tournament in 1997, 1998 and 2000. He also led the Jacks to the Elite Eight tournament in 1997. All of those accomplishments played a part in him earning North Central Conference Coach of the Year five times in 1996, 1997, 1998, 2002 and 2003.

Before he ever made his mark coaching though, Nagy made a name for himself on the basketball court, as a standout student-athlete at Delta State University in Cleveland, Miss.

A year after graduating from Centennial High School in Champaign, Ill., Nagy led the Statesman to a second place finish in the league and a berth in the NCAA Tournament with a 20-11 record, earning him a Gulf South Freshman of the Year nod.

A year later, DSU won the conference title and advanced to the NCAA Tournament with a 23-8 record.

The Statesmen finished second in the Gulf South in Nagy's junior year, but they still advanced to the NCAA Tournament, and eventually to the Final Four, with a 24-9 overall record.

Delta State did not make the tournament in Nagy's senior year, but he still garnered Gulf South Conference Athlete of the Year honors in 1988.

Adding to his accomplishments on the court, Nagy also excelled in the classroom, earning Gulf South All-Academic honors for three straight years.

Nagy still holds the Delta State record for games played in a career with 122, career assists with 549, assists in a season with 234 and assists in a game with 15, which he did twice.

Nagy's skills on and off the court earned him an induction into the Delta State Sports Hall of Fame in 2001.

Nagy graduated from Delta State with a degree in business administration in 1988, and embarked on his coaching career, which started with two seasons as a graduate assistant at the University of Illinois under head coach Lou Henson.

In Nagy's two seasons in Champaign, Illinois advanced to the NCAA tournament twice, including a trip to the Final Four in 1989. On top of that, his two years at Illinois gave Nagy the opportunity to coach along side of his dad Dick, a longtime Illinois assistant.

Nagy earned his master's degree in physical education from Illinois in 1990, and then came to South Dakota State as an assistant coach under head coach Jim Thorson from 1990-93.

In his first year on the SDSU bench, the Jackrabbits won the NCC postseason tournament title, the second year they won the NCC regular season title and in all three years the Jacks advanced to the NCAA Tournament.

Nagy left South Dakota State in 1993 to take a job as an assistant under head coach Jack Margenthaler at Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville for two seasons before coming back to Brookings in 1995 as the Jackrabbits 20th head coach.

Just 29 years old when he took over the program, Nagy started his winning ways in his first season on the job, when he led the Jacks to the NCC title and to a second place finish at the region tournament. In his first season as a head coach on any level, Nagy earned NCC Coach of the Year honors, as the Jacks finished the season with a 24-5 record.

Things only got better in year two, when Nagy guided the Jackrabbits to an 86-74 win over defending national champion Fort Hays State in the regional tournament, earning the Jackrabbits a trip to the Elite Eight Tournament in Springfield, Mass. The Jacks finished the season with a 25-5 record, and for the second time in as many years, The NCC named Nagy its Coach of the Year.

Nagy's Jackrabbits jumped out to a 21-0 start and a number one rank in the country to start year three, as SDSU cruised to its third straight NCC title and second place finish at the region tournament. Nagy also took home NCC Coach of the Year honors for the third straight year and tied a school record for wins with 26.

By Nagy's standards, the 1998-99 season rep-

Nagy and his wife Jamie live in Brookings with their three sons, Nick (21), Tyler (19) and Anthony "TJ" (14), and two daughters, Natalie (12) and Naika (11) resents a lean year, as the Jacks finished 17-10, his only double-digit loss season in Division II.

After just one year out of postseason play, Nagy led his team back to the NCAA Regional Tournament in the next two years with a combined record of 43-16 and picked up his 100th career win on Dec. 14, 1999, in a 69-52 win over Dakota Wesleyan.

Nagy earned NCC Coach of the Year honors for a fourth time in 2002, when he led the Jackrabbits to a 15-1 start against NCC foes.

SDSU went on to win the regular and postseason conference titles, but finished second in the regional tournament, losing to the eventual national champion Metropolitan State.

Injuries plagued the Jacks in 2003, but Nagy rallied the team to a 24-7 season. They finished second in the NCC, qualified for the region tournament and Nagy earned NCC Coach of the Year honors for a fifth time, becoming the first coach in conference history win the award without winning the regular season title.

In the final year of Division II competition, Nagy lead the Jackrabbits to a 17-0 start and a second place finish in the NCC.

The Jackrabbits advanced to the regional tournament, where the season eventually ended with a school record 27 wins.

Nagy also won his 200th game in 2004, a 92-79 win over South Dakota on Jan. 9, in the Jacks final Division II game against the Coyotes in Frost Arena, and he did it in front of 8,489 fans.

The all-time leader in men's basketball coaching victories at SDSU, when the Jacks left NCAA Division II, Nagy ranked second among active D-II coaches at with a .781 winning percentage.

Now with 10 seasons with at least 20-wins to his credit, history proves that Nagy wins games, and despite four 20-loss seasons in the tumultuous transition to Division I, he led the Jackrabbits to the top of The Summit League with a pair of record-breaking seasons, and looks to continue his winning ways for years to come.

Rob Klinkefus returns to South Dakota State in 2014-15 for his ninth year on Scott Nagy's staff. Klinkefus came to SDSU from Buena Vista University in Storm Lake, Iowa, where he worked as an assistant coach from 2001-06 under Brian Van Haaften, one of the most successful coaches in the history of Division III basketball.

After spending his first two seasons coaching the Jackrabbit guards, Klinkefus returned to the familiar position of coaching the post players, a position he coached in nine of his 13 years in basketball, including the last six at SDSU, where he mentored a total of six All-Summit League selections. In total, he coached a total of 12 all-conference posts and one conference MVP in his nine years coaching the position.

Nagy on Klinkefus

"Rob's been with me longer than any other assistant coach I've ever had. He's brought consistency to our staff, he's strong in areas where I'm weak and we've always been a good balance to each other and worked well together."

"I really enjoy coaching the position and am very excited for these guys," said Klinkefus. "We have a relatively new group of talented guys and a couple of guys returning that bring a good amount of experience, which makes it exciting not only for this year, but for the future as well."

In addition to coaching the post players, Klinkefus' duties include scouting and game preparations, individual workouts, recruiting and developing the Jackrabbits non-conference schedule.

Recruiting though remains coach Klink's top priority, as the Jackrabbits look to continue the success of signing some of the top players in the Midwest to South Dakota State.

Klinkefus' coaching career started in 2000, when he took an Associate Head Coach job at Storm Lake St. Mary's High School. After a year at St. Mary's, Klinkefus returned to Buena Vista as an assistant for the five most successful years in the program's history. During his tenure at BVU, the Beavers posted a 115-33 overall record, a winning percentage of nearly 80 percent. During that same span, the Beavers won five straight IIAC tournament titles with a perfect 15-0 record and qualified for five straight national tournaments. During those five years, Klinkefus coached a total of 15 all-conference players and three conference MVPs.

Klinkefus begins his ninth season at South Dakota State, where he helped lead the program to the top of The Summit League, posting a 38-10 record against league competition in the last three years. The Jacks posted a 71-31 overall record in that span, including three straight postseason appearances, with NCAA Tournament appearances in 2012 and 2013, and a bid to the College Basketball Invitational in 2014.

As a student-athlete, Klinkefus won two state football titles and one baseball championship in high school before heading off to college at Buena Vista, where he started at quarterback for all four years.

Before earning with a B.A. in Secondary Education from Buena Vista in 2000, Klinkefus earned newcomer of the year as a freshman and ranked third all-time in total offense when he graduated.

Before joining the staff at South Dakota State, Klinkefus earned a Master of Science degree in Education from Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa, in 2004.

Klinkefus lives in Brookings with his wife, Megan.

In addition to increasing external exposure by securing two separate cable television agreements and adding radio affiliates, Costello also assisted in negotiating a 10-year agreement with Learfield Sports to provide additional marketing resources, and he developed programs like the Varsity Club, to re-engage former Panther student-athletes.

A native of Fairbank, Iowa, Costello graduated from Loras College with a bachelor's degree in physical education and sport science in 1998. While at Loras, he also played for the Duhawk men's basketball team.

Costello completed his master's degree from Western Illinois University in sport management in 2002 and served an internship in marketing and game operations with the Boston Celtics. In the fall of 2002, Northern Iowa hired him as its athletic marketing and promotions assistant, where he worked for a year before earning a promotion to director of athletic marketing and promotions in January 2003.

Leon and his wife Heather live in Brookings with their daughter Cailin and sons Michael and Griffin.

SENIOR WOMAN ADMINISTRATOR: KATHY HEYLENSPOSITIONS: Senior Associate Athletic Director for Compliance
Senior Woman AdministratorHOMETOWN: Watertown, S.D.PHONE: (605) 688-5308EMAIL: Kathy.Heylens@sdstate.edu

Kathy Heylens came to South Dakota State in July 1984 as a member of the staff in the admissions office before moving to athletics two years later as a senior secretary.

Heylens became the institution's first full-time compliance coordinator in 1990 and continues those duties as the associate athletic director for compliance and senior woman administrator.

Heylens manages all aspects of the athletics compliance program to ensure strict adherence with NCAA, affiliated conferences and university rules and regulations for amateurism, eligibility, recruiting, financial aid, awards and benefits, playing and practice seasons and enforcement.

As the SWA, she helps to create an environment where staff and student-athletes can achieve their goals.

Heylens recently accepted an appointment of a four-year term on the NCAA Division I Legislative Council, which serves as the primary legislative body in the Division I governance structure. She also accepted an appointment to the four-member Legislative Council Administrative Committee, which acts on behalf of the full Legislative Council between meetings to transact routine items of business.

She also serves on the NCAA Division I Football Championship Subdivision Governance Committee.

In addition to her day-to-day duties, Heylens serves on the Undergraduate Experience Committee, Diversity Committee, Intercollegiate Athletics Board and Compliance Team. She also volunteers in the community as co-chair of the Brookings Food Pantry and serves as a member of the Brookings Committee for People With Disabilities.

A Watertown, S.D., native, Kathy and her husband, Bill, live in Volga, S.D. and have two grown children. In her spare time Kathy enjoys reading, spending time at the lake and cheering on the Jacks!

A 1969 graduate of South Dakota State University, David L. Chicoine became the third alumnus to sit in the South Dakota State University president's office when he took office on Jan. 1, 2007.

The 19th president in school history met his wife, Marcia, whom he spotted in an English class to which he claims perfect attendance—after he noticed her there first, of course.

President Chicoine spent the majority of the next 30 years away from South Dakota State working in higher education at the University of Illinois, where he held administrative posts, including Vice President of Technology and Economic Development and Dean of the College of Agriculture.

While vice president at the University of Illinois, President Chicoine helped launch Illinois VENTURES, LLC, a seed and early-stage technology investment firm. He also reached new milestones each year in restructuring the university's technology licensing offices.

As its dean, President Chicoine transformed the College of Agriculture, leaving it with seven academic departments and an Information Technology unit in place of the previous 14 administrative units. He raised $134 million in private gifts (surpassing the campaign's goal of $115 million) and increased the endowment to $60 million.

Of the eight siblings in President Chicoine's family, five attended State, including President

PRESIDENT DAVID L. CHICOINE

Chicoine and his brother Jeff, who finished school here the year before him.

When President Chicoine graduated, he did so alongside former U.S. Senator Tom Daschle and several men and women who work at South Dakota State today.

At State, President Chicoine also met long-time friend and colleague Robert Todd, with whom he worked with almost 30 years at the University of Illinois.

The president and his wife, Marcia, live in Woodbine Cottage. Their family includes son Joshua, a Chicago-based musician; daughter-in-law Laura Ellsworth; granddaughter Sylvie; and their late son Jason.

President Chicoine serves as the 19th president of the University and the 17th to live in the historic cottage.

Justin Sell joined the Jackrabbit staff May 7, 2009, as the 12th director of athletics at South Dakota State University, where he oversees the Jackrabbits' 21-sport Division I athletics program.

Under Sell's leadership, SDSU athletics continues to make strides in athletic competition, in the classroom, in fundraising and in reconnecting with alumni.

Athletically, the Jackrabbits claimed 18 regular and postseason league championships in six different sports since 2009-10. That broad-based success has led SDSU to claim The Summit League Commissioner's Cup all-sports trophy three times (2010-11, 2012-13, 2013-14), along with winning both The Summit League's Dr. William Steinbrecher Men's All-Sports Award and Dr. Helen Smiley Women's All-Sports Award during the 2013-14 season. SDSU also claimed the Steinbrecher award during the 2012-13 season and earned the league's Sportsmanship Award, an award voted upon by its peers, during the 2010-11 campaign.

In the classroom, Jackrabbit student-athletes continually post a GPA of 3.2 or higher in more than 70 different majors, which led SDSU to winning The Summit League's Institutional Academic Achievement Award for the 2009-10 and 2012-13 academic years and the Missouri Valley Football Conference Academic Award in all six years in the league (2008-13).

In January 2011, Sell announced a partnership with Learfield Sports, signing a 10-year deal worth $13 million for SDSU athletics.

Learfield Sports quickly established a Brookings-based entity known as "Jackrabbit Sports Properties" that directs all aspects of the partnership, including managing and selling multimedia and sponsorship rights for South Dakota State Athletics.

In addition to the deal with Learfield Sports, Sell directed the implementation of the Letterwinners Club, which provides opportunities for Jackrabbit Athletics to reconnect and stay connected with former student-athletes, while supporting current student-athletes at South Dakota State.

In the years to come, Sell wants to continue reconnecting with former Jackrabbit student-athletes and enhancing the athletic facilities while still maintaining success, both in competition, but more importantly, in the classroom.

On the facilities front, Sell oversaw the completion of the Dykhouse Student-Athlete Center in 2010, and developed the 2025 SDSU Athletic Facilities Master Plan. Additionally, Sell spearheaded efforts to add permanent seating and a press box at Erv Huether Field, chairback seating in both Frost Arena and Coughlin-Alumni Stadium.

Construction of the indoor facility—the Sanford-Jackrabbit Athletic Complex—began in August 2013, and finished in the fall of 2014. Lead gifts totaling $12.5 million toward the construction of the new Dana J. Dykhouse Stadium, with seating up to 20,000 were received in October 2013. The project began in the fall of 2014, with completion set for the summer of 2016. In total, Sell spearheaded the fundraising efforts to raise more than $57 million in private donations since Aug. 1, 2012, for the Sanford-Jackrabbit Complex and Dana J. Dykhouse Stadium.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS: JUSTIN SELL

Born in Salem, Ore., and raised in Columbus, Ohio, Sell came to South Dakota State from the University of Northern Iowa, where he worked in various roles, both at the university and in the community for 10 years. He also worked at Villanova University, Syracuse University, The Ohio State University and Bowling Green State University. Sell gained further experience working in the private sector for various sports teams and events.

In the community, Sell serves as a board member of the Brookings Chamber of Commerce, Brookings Convention and Visitor's Bureau, Brookings Friends of Baseball and on the Brookings Health System.

Sell earned his bachelor's degree in sport management from Bowling Green State University (Ohio) in 1991 and completed a master's degree in physical education/sport administration at The Ohio State University in 1992.

Sell and his wife, Jennie, have four children; Abbie, Zach, Josh and Eric.

DID YOU KNOW...

- The Summit League finished 2013-14 at an all-time high (No. 16) in the men's basketball USA Today Sagarin Ratings and had a record three teams advance in national postseason tournaments. The league recorded a final No. 13 softball RPI, the sport's all-time best and the second-highest for any league sport in history.
- In 2013-14, Amanda Hyde (Fort Wayne) was named the women's basketball Division I-AAA Athletics Director Association Scholar-Athlete of the Year for the second consecutive season and Tim Colwell (North Dakota State) received the Capital One Baseball Academic All-American of the Year award.
- A record 10 former Summit Leaguers were on NBA or NBA D-League rosters in 2013-14, led by George Hill (IUPUI) and Nate Wolters (South Dakota State) as starting guards for their NBA teams.
- The Summit League set all-time highs in 2013-14 with 21 teams recording perfect NCAA Academic Progress Rate (APR) scores and 22 teams publicly recognized for posting multi-year APRs in the top 10 percent of their respective sports. A total of 13 Academic All-Americans and 30 Academic All-District honorees hailed from The Summit League last season.
- The Summit League Basketball Championships, called "March's Best-Kept Secret" by USA Today, rank among the nation's top mid-major tournament environments and continue to set attendance, revenue and sponsorship records. In 2015, The Summit League Basketball Championships move into the brand-new Denny Sanford PREMIER Center in Sioux Falls, S.D.

HISTORY

Since its inception in 1982, The Summit League recorded several transcendent moments that resonate on the national stage. While known as the Mid-Continent Conference, the league's first two decades produced a pair of appearances in the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament's "Sweet 16" and the Women's College World Series as well as three individual NCAA Track and Field Champions.

Oral Roberts gave The Summit League its initial baseball regional crown and Super Regional appearance in 2006 and three years later, North Dakota State became the league's first softball team to achieve the same feat. The 2008-09 season also saw South Dakota State's women's basketball team carry a national ranking throughout a majority of the year and cap its season with an NCAA Tournament first round victory. In 2014, North Dakota State gained the national spotlight with a victory in the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament Round of 64.

Throughout its history, The Summit League has produced 10 NCAA Championships, three Olympic medalists and numerous All-Americans in the sports of track and field, swimming and diving and cross country. Several professional athletes and draft choices have come directly from The Summit League, including three Major League Baseball first round picks, a pair of NBA first round choices, and one WNBA selection. In addition, Summit Leaguers compete in the MLS, and on the PGA and PGA Tours. Former Summit Leaguer Kevin Duckworth (NBA) was a two-time all-star during his professional career.

To coincide with The Summit League's 30th Anniversary Season in 2011-12, the league released a list of its Top 30 Distinguished Contributors from the Division I era as selected by a panel of voters from member schools and the media. Four individual NCAA champions and three Olympic medalists along with four NBA players and two World Series Champions headlined The Summit League's list of top student-athletes, coaches and administrators that was the jewel of the anniversary celebration.

FROST ARENA
HOME OF THE JACKRABBITS

R.B. "JACK" FROST

South Dakota State plays its home games in Frost Arena, named after former SDSU coach and Athletic Director R.B. "Jack" Frost.

The facility, part of the Stanley J. Marshall HPER Center, now seats 6,063 fans for basketball. The SDSU-Augustana game on Feb. 11, 1989, attracted an arena record 9,456 fans, a record which may never be broken since the new chairback courtside seating, added before the 1992-93 and 2012-13 seasons, eliminated seats from the arena total.

The improved seating represents just one in a series of changes. In 2005, the university spent more than $3-million to install state-of-the-art scoreboards throughout Frost Arena and in Coughlin Alumni Stadium, incorporating a colorful scorer's bench at courtside and adding an $80,000 sound system to the arena.

The improvements continued in the summer of 2007, when the Frost Arena floor got a brand new paint job.

The university let bids totaling $3,374,115 for the facility following legislative approval of the project, with the bill signed by Governor Frank Farrar on Feb. 14, 1970. They broke ground on Sept. 22, 1970 and Governor Richard Kneip placed the cornerstone on Oct. 2, 1971. Final cost of the building totaled $3,685,000, with the difference made up by gifts and items donated later.

SDSU PLAYED 594 GAMES AT FROST ARENA OVER 40-PLUS YEARS, ATTRACTING 2,033,047 FANS, AN AVERAGE OF 3,423 PER GAME. THE JACKS OWN A 464-130 RECORD (.781) IN FROST, INCLUDING A 232-38 RECORD (.859) IN NON-CONFERENCE GAMES

The Jackrabbits, who played their first game in Frost Arena on Feb. 2, 1973 against North Dakota State, welcomed the one-millionth fan through the Frost Arena turnstiles in 1994 and the two-millionth fan in 2014.

Born in Shenyenne, North Dakota on April 26, 1907, Reuben B. "Jack" Frost graduated from Spring Grove, Minn., High School in 1923. He attend Luther College (Iowa) from 1924 to 1928, and received his Ph.D. in Physical Education from the University of Oregon in 1958.

Frost's coaching career started in 1928 at Glenwood, Minn., High School and continued at Fergus Falls, Minn. In 1935, he became the athletic director and head coach at Bemidji State College.

He took over as Athletic Director, professor and head of the Department of Physical Education at SDSU in June of 1947, and established the Health, Physical Education and Recreation Graduate program at South Dakota State University in 1951.

Frost oversaw the SDSU athletic department until 1960, when assumed a distinguished professorship at Springfield (Mass.) College. At Springfield, he occupied the only endowed chair for physical education in the nation.

An international leader in health, physical education and recreation, Frost represented the United States in Athens, Greece at the Fifth Session of the International Olympic Academy in 1965.

An author, teacher, coach and administrator, Dr. Frost's influence on this university remains today. He mentored Dr. Stanley Marshall, in whose honor the HPER Center is named.

HISTORY & RECORDS

One of the most successful programs in any division, South Dakota State begins its 109th season of men's basketball in 2014-15 with 1,401 victories after hitting the 1,400-win mark on March 1, 2014, with a 75-61 win over South Dakota at Frost Arena.

Head coach Scott Nagy, now in his 20th season, owns a school-record 360 of those wins and 10 of the 21 seasons with at least 20 wins in school history. Nagy also led the Jackrabbits nine NCAA Tournaments, including the school's only two bids at the Division I level in 2012 and 2013.

The Jacks journey to March Madness started in 2004-05, when SDSU took its game to a new level, as the Jackrabbits began the five-year transition to Division I, one more step forward for a program that started in NAIA, moved up to the NCAA College Division and then to NCAA Division II as a charter member of the North Central Conference.

SDSU began the transition into Division I as an independent looking for a conference, which they found on Aug. 30, 2006, when the Mid-Continent Conference Presidents Council voted unanimously to extend an invitation for membership starting in the 2007-08 season, the final year of the Jackrabbits Division I transition.

As a member of the Mid-Con, renamed The Summit League in 2007, the Jacks played for the regular season league title in 2007-08, but could not participate in the postseason tournament.

That changed in 2008-09 as South Dakota State completed its Division I transition and got its first chance to play for the postseason title in the 2008-09 season, when The Summit League Championships started a six-year run at the Sioux Falls Arena.

The Jacks made their mark in the first tournament in Sioux Falls by upsetting No. 2 Seed, and three-time defending league tournament champion Oral Roberts in the first round before falling to eventual champion Oakland in the semifinals.

SDSU advanced to the league tournament semifinals again in 2011, but again fell to eventual champion Oakland.

The Jackrabbits finally broke through to the finals in 2012, and erased a 12-point second half deficit against Western Illinois to force overtime, thanks to a pair of free throws from Griffan Callahan with 15 seconds left in regulation. The Jacks lone senior came through again in the extra frame, draining a late 3-pointer to secure the win and the team's first bid to the Big Dance.

SDSU earned a No. 14 seed in the NCAA Tournament and drew No. 3 seed Baylor in the South Regional at the Pit in Albuquerque, N.M., on March 15, 2012. The Jacks led by as many as 12 points in the first half, and only trailed by four with just over a minute to play, but the Bears hung on for the 68-60 win to oust the Jackrabbits, who tied a school record with 27 wins on the season.

Led by All-American Nate Wolters, the Jackrabbits climbed the Summit again in 2013, but not before hitting some milestones along the way. The first milestone came on Dec. 22, 2012, when the Jacks returned to The Pit to face host New Mexico, the No. 16 team in the country. Despite some travel issues that forced the team to take an 18-hour bus ride, the Jacks took the lead just two minutes into the game, and held on for the 70-65 win, the team's first-ever win over a ranked team at the Division I level.

Less than a month later, on Jan. 5, 2013 at South Dakota, Wolters broke Mark Tetzlaff's school scoring record of 1,931 points, a mark held by the Jackrabbit great for 28 years. Twelve days later, Wolters made history again, this time in Macomb, Ill., when he became the first Jackrabbit to score 2,000 points in a career.

Fast forward to Feb. 7, 2013, in Fort Wayne, Ind., where Wolters shattered the SDSU single-game scoring mark with 53 points against IPFW, breaking the school-record for 3-pointers in a game with nine in the process. Two days later, he added the career assists record to his list of accomplishments in Rochester, Mich., against Oakland.

On March 12, 2013, Wolters and a strong group of juniors again led the Jackrabbits to The Summit League Championship Finals, where the Jacks held off a tough North Dakota State squad to advance to their second straight NCAA Tournament with a 73-67 win.

On March 6, 2012, GRIFFAN CALLAHAN's 3-pointer in overtime hit its mark, and secured the Jackrabbits win over Western Illinois and a berth in the NCAA Tournament

A No. 13 seed in the tournament, SDSU played No. 4 seed Michigan in the Palace of Auburn Hills in the round of 64. The Jacks led by as many as six points in the first half and trailed by just four at halftime, but the Wolverines, playing in their home state, outscored the Jacks 41-30 in the second half en-route to a 71-56 win. Michigan would advance all the way to the title game, where they fell to Louisville.

The Jacks bid for a third straight trip the Big Dance ended in the semifinals of the 2014 Summit League Championships, but they did reach the postseason for a third straight season when they accepted a bid to play in the College Basketball Invitational. SDSU fell in its first game of the event, dropping a 72-65 game at Old Dominion in Norfolk, Va., on March 19, 2014.

The loss at ODU in the CBI ended the careers of Chad White, Jordan Dykstra and Brayden Carlson, all of whom played the final 10 games of the season with at least 1,000 points in their respective careers, marking just the third time in school history that a trio of 1,000 point scorers all played together. In the final two games of the 2009-10 season, Garrett Callahan, Kai Williams and Clint Sargent all played with at least 1,000 career points. The first occurrence of three 1,000 point scorers playing together happened in 1968-69, when John Thomas, Guy Mackner and Gene Zulk all played with out the season with 1,000 career points.

Prior to making the move to Division I, the South Dakota State basketball program left its mark in the North Central Conference and NCAA Division II athletics.

The Jacks won 20 North Central Conference championships, appeared in 24 NCAA College Division/Division II tournaments and won more NCC Holiday Tournament titles than any other team. SDSU won the holiday tournament title in 1968, 1969, 1973, 1977 and 1979. The Jacks also won the NCC tournament played in Sioux City, Iowa, in 1950.

South Dakota State produced more individuals to win the league's most valuable player award, 12, than any other league member, the last being Jason Sempstrott, who captured the honor in 1997.

In 1979-80, SDSU became the first and only team to win the NCC "Triple Crown", claiming championships in the holiday tournament, regular season and postseason tournament. The Jacks then hosted, and won, the NCAA Division II North Central Regional Tournament, advancing to the quarterfinals of the national tournament.

SDSU is one of only two North Central Conference teams that can boast of winning a national championship. The 1963 Jackrabbits, coached by Jim Iverson and featuring All-American center Tom Black, went 22-5 for the season, and won the NCAA College Division championship on a dramatic 40-foot shot by Sid Bostic at the buzzer. Bostic's buzzer-beater gave South Dakota State a 44-42 victory over Eldon Miller's Wittenberg Tigers in the 1963 title showdown in Evansville, Ind.

In 1985, SDSU not only hosted and won the North Central Regional, but also became the first team in South Dakota to host an NCAA quarterfinal game. On March 16, 1985, a Frost Arena, and NCAA Division II playoff record, 9,339 fans saw the Jacks defeat Cal State-Hayward 62-58, giving the Jacks a berth in the NCAA Final Four.

After 21 consecutive tournaments without an NCC team in the title game, the 1985 Jackrabbits beat Mount St. Mary's 78-71 in the semifinals on March 22, to advance to the national championship game. Unfortunately though, a storybook year for the Jacks did not get a fairy tale ending, as Jacksonville State rallied from a 71-64 deficit with 2:14 to play to defeat SDSU 74-73 in an exciting championship game on March 23, 1985 at the Division II Final Four in Springfield, Mass.

Despite the runner-up finish, Tetzlaff still earned NCAA Division II Final Four MVP honors, which followed his All-New England Regional Team accolades in 1984.

In addition to Tetzlaff, two other Jackrabbit players earned the Outstanding Player Award at the national finals tournament - Don Jacobsen, when State finished third in 1961 and Wayne Rasmussen in 1963.

Typical of South Dakota State's tradition of winning with small town homegrown talent, Jacobsen hails from Lake Norden, Rasmussen from Howard and Tetzlaff from Hayti. Another one of SDSU's small town products, Virg Riley from Dell Rapids, played on Team USA in the 1959 World Championships

Tetzlaff capped his brilliant career with that 1985 team, setting the school records for points and rebounds in a career in the process. He finished his career with a record 1,931 points, a record that stood for 28 years, until Wolters set a new standard with his 2,363 points from 2009-13. Still the only player in school history to cross the 1,000-rebound mark, Tetzlaff's 1,132 rebounds remains the career benchmark at SDSU, 288 more than Kai Williams (2006-10) in second place.

On Feb. 2, 1993, the Jacks added another milestone, becoming just the eighth team in NCAA Division II history to win 1,000 or more games. SDSU achieved that milestone in a 69-67 win at Nebraska-Omaha.

In total, the Jackrabbits won regional titles in 1959, 1961, 1963, 1970, 1980, 1985, 1992 and 1997, they also participated in the national playoffs, which started in 1957, in 1960, 1968, 1969, 1972, 1973, 1978, 1984, 1988, 1991, 1996, 1998, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003 and 2004.

In 1997, led by Sempstrott and his 23.9 points, 4.6 rebounds and 6.0 assists per game, the Jacks claimed their eighth regional championship and advanced to the Elite Eight Tournament, this time in Louisville, Ky., where, on March, 19, they fell to Lynn University (Fla.) 78-72 in the Elite Eight.

The first player drafted into the NBA since 1981, the Washington Wizards drafted Nate Wolters in the second round with the 38th overall pick, but he ended up with the Milwaukee Bucks, through the Philadelphia 76ers, in short order on draft night, June 27, 2013.

Four days after being drafted, the St. Cloud, Minn., native signed a three-year deal with the Bucks and shortly thereafter began playing on the team's summer league team.

Wolters played his way onto the Bucks regular season roster, and made his NBA debut on Oct. 30, 2013 at historic Madison Square Garden against the New York Knicks. He came off the bench to score nine points and dish out four assists in almost 30 minutes on the floor.

In total, Wolters averaged 22.6 minutes per contest in 58 games as a rookie, with 31 starts, before he broke his hand on March 20, 2014 in a game at Golden State.

He scored a career-high 19 points on Feb. 8, at home against Houston, one of 12 games in double figures. He committed one or fewer turnovers in 48 games, with no turnovers committed in 19 games.

The Washington Bullets drafted Steve Lingenfelter in the second round of the 1981 NBA draft with the 44th overall pick on June 9, 1981, but he chose to play for Tropic Uline in Italy for a year before returning to the U.S., where he started the 1982 season with Bullets, who eventually waived him on Dec. 10, after just seven games.

SOUTH DAKOTA STATE

South Dakota State University is the state's Morrill Act land-grant university and its largest, most comprehensive institution of higher education. With an enrollment of 12,554 students in the fall of 2013 from all 50 states and 70 countries, students can choose from more than 175 majors, minors and specializations. The institution also offers 29 master's degree programs, 13 Ph.D. and two professional programs.

SDSU grew from 80 acres at its founding in 1881 to a 422-acre campus with facilities valued at more than $381 million. The university owns or leases another 15,000 acres of land for research throughout the state.

The university provides a rich academic experience in an environment of inclusion and access through inspired, student-centered education, creative activities and research, innovation and engagement that improve the quality of life in South Dakota, the region, the nation and the world.

SDSU confers degrees through six colleges: Agriculture and Biological Sciences, Arts and Sciences, Education and Human Sciences, the Jerome J. Lohr College of Engineering, Nursing and Pharmacy, as well as the Graduate School. Qualified students may enroll in the Van D. and Barbara B. Fishback Honors College.

The Office of Continuing and Distance Education facilitates distance delivery of credit and noncredit programming, and University Centers in Sioux Falls, Pierre and Rapid City offer degree programs and student support services comparable to those offered on the Brookings campus.

SDSU Extension and the Agricultural Experiment Station reach all parts of the state. The federally funded North Central Regional Sun Grant Center (focused on developing biobased energy alternatives) and the North Central Agricultural Research Laboratory (the only USDA Agricultural Research Service facility in the state), along with the Northern Plains Biostress Laboratory, the Water and Environmental Engineering Research Center, the Animal Disease Research and Diagnostic Laboratory and the Northeast Research Center near South Shore demonstrate the university's commitment to purpose-driven research and that supports economic development.

At 165 feet tall, South Dakota State University's most recognizable landmark, the Coughlin Campanile sits just south of the South Dakota Art Museum

CAMPUS FACILITIES

The South Dakota State campus witnessed numerous building projects over the past 10 past years, and the building boom continues into 2014-15.

Recent or current construction projects include the Architecture, Mathematics and Engineering Building and an updated Medary Commons.

The Architecture, Mathematics and Engineering Building houses several of the most dynamic programs on campus including:

- Center for Financial Analytics
- Center for Statistics and Biometrics
- Center for Computational Science
- Senior Design Lab for Mechanical Engineering
- Engineering Resource Center

Construction of that 60,000-square-foot, $17 million project started in fall 2013 after spending the summer cleaning and then demolishing Solberg Annex and the Industrial Arts Building. The new building's footprint also extends to the parking lot north of those structures.

Set for completion in early 2015 with most of the moving to occur in spring and summer 2015, the first floor houses the mechanical engineering prototyping and design labs and construction and operations management departments as well as shared lab space with architecture. The mathematics and statistics department can be found on the second floor while the third floor houses the architecture department.

The formerly known as Medary Commons, the Enrollment Services Center now houses enrollment services, admissions, financial aid, records and registration, and scholarships.

Other recently completed projects include:

- The 144,000-square-foot Avera Health and Science Center
- The 30,000-square-foot Daktronics Engineering Hall
- A $7.8 million campus wellness center
- Four new residence halls that add housing for more than 800 students
- A 20,000 square foot expansion to the student union that adds 350 new seats and three nationally branded dining options

Currently under construction, the Architecture, Mathematics and Engineering Building opens in early 2015

The Enrollment Services Center opened in the fall of 2014 on the site of the former Medary Commons

Conceptual drawing of Dana J. Dykhouse Stadium

The South Dakota State building boom also includes athletic facilities, which started with the completion of the Dykhouse Student-Athlete Center in 2010, and continues with the completion of the Sanford-Jackrabbit Athletic Complex in the fall of 2014 and Dana J. Dykhouse Stadium, scheduled for completion in 2016.

Completed in October 2014, the multi-use Sanford-Jackrabbit Athletic Complex features an indoor practice and competition space of more than 149,000 square feet and a human performance area of nearly 15,000 square feet. The facility also houses one of the only eight-lane, 300-meter tracks in the region, along with 100 yards of soy-based synthetic turf. The building measures 61 feet high at midfield.

SDSU broke ground on the facility in August 2013, with the final beam raised in March 2014 and the turf installed in July 2014.

Scheduled for completion in time for the 2016 football season, the 2014 South Dakota State Legislature approved the construction of Dana J. Dykhouse on the site of the current Coughlin-Alumni Stadium. Gov. Dennis Daugaard signed the bill into law and then held a ceremonial signing of the bill on May 22, 2014 on the field of the current stadium.

Plans call for the stadium to seat 18,500-20,000 fans and cost an estimated $65 million, with one-third of the funds coming through private gives and long-term revenue streams, including concessions, suite, loge box and ticket sales. The university secured bonds to finance the final two-thirds of cost.

SDSU announced on Oct. 5, 2013, in conjunction with the 100th Hobo Day game at SDSU, lead gifts totaling $12.5 million from Sioux Falls banker Dana Dykhouse and philanthropist T. Denny Sanford.

The first phase of construction began in the fall of 2014 with the east and south stands scheduled for completion in time for the 2015 football season, and the rest of the stadium ready for the 2016 season.

INNOVATIVE

The first building of the Innovation Campus opened in 2008

SDSU offers the most undergraduate research opportunities in the state

The Innovation Campus at South Dakota State University marks the state's first and only university-affiliated research park. Located on 125 acres just east of campus, it provides an environment that fosters partnerships among the University, business, government and the community to grow the sciences and technology-based economy.

SDSU boasts the highest percentage of undergraduates involved in research of any South Dakota public university. SDSU is large enough to offer competitive research opportunities, yet small enough to foster student faculty learning opportunities.

Major areas of research at SDSU include:

- Engineering and technology research into photovoltaic devices, nanotechnology, materials science, wind power, surface transportation systems, signal and image processing, water treatment, computer sciences, software engineering and computational science and statistics
- Agricultural sciences research on crops and livestock, including food manufacturing, bio-based energy, economics and horticulture
- Management and conservation of natural resources
- Health sciences, nutritional sciences and wellness research programs in pharmaceutical sciences, nutrition and exercise physiology
- Renewable energy research develops bio-based energy technologies, while promoting diversification and environmental sustainability of America's agriculture
- The federal government awarded SDSU and six other universities $69 million in federal funds over the next five years to serve as Vanguard centers for the National Children's Study. The NCS studies more than 100,000 children from across the country from conception to age 21

South Dakota State is located in Brookings, S.D., a community of more than 22,000 residents in eastern South Dakota, ranked No. 5 on the "Top 10 Best Small Towns 2013" list by Livability.com. Brookings sits 55 miles north of Sioux Falls on Interstate 29 and half-an-hour west of the Minnesota border, within a day's drive of Minneapolis (200 miles), Omaha (230 miles), Des Moines (330 miles) and Kansas City (415 miles).

The city serves as the world headquarters for Daktronics, the world's industry leader in designing and manufacturing electronic scoreboards, programmable display systems and large screen video displays, and Larson Manufacturing, the largest manufacturer of storm doors and storm windows in the United States. Other large businesses that call Brookings home include Falcon Plastics, 3M, Bel Brands USA and Rainbow Play Systems, which creates swing sets out of wood.

South Dakota State also houses several facilities, including museums and gardens, which highlight South Dakota history and heritage.

The South Dakota Art Museum houses several collections, including early Sioux Indian tribal art, the famed Harvey Dunn paintings of pioneer life and the exclusive Vera Way Marghab linens. The State Agricultural Heritage Museum transformed the former Stock Judging Pavilion into a home for exhibits that record and preserve the agrarian heritage of South Dakota.

The 70-acre McCrory Gardens and South Dakota Arboretum, a botanical garden operated and maintained by the Plant Science Department of South Dakota State University. Located south and east of campus, McCrory Gardens provides a beautiful setting for area residents and tourists to enjoy a stroll through the radiant colors and fragrances of one of the top-10 small ornamental gardens in the nation. Adding to its honors, McCrory Gardens earned the distinction of being named an All-American Display Garden, one of only 13 in the nation.

Dedicated in the summer of 2012, the $4.2 Million McCrory Gardens Education and Visitor Center includes a gift shop and can host weddings and other events.

Open daily on the SDSU campus with a few exceptions, the South Dakota Art Museum is free and open to the public

McCrory Gardens honors Professor S.A. McCrory, who headed the College of Agriculture and Biological Sciences from 1947 until his death in 1964

THE JACKRABBITS

South Dakota State offers 21 varsity sports with Jackrabbits teams competing at the NCAA Division I level. Football competes in the Division I Football Championship Subdivision in the Missouri Valley Football Conference, while 18 sports compete in The Summit League. Wrestling competes in the Western Wrestling Conference, while equestrian currently competes in the National Collegiate Equestrian Association.

Evolution of a Nickname

Two theories exist as to how and why SDSU's athletic teams became known as the Jackrabbits. Most believe that the name "Jackrabbits" came from a story and cartoon sketch that appeared in a Minneapolis newspaper following a 1905 football game between the University of Minnesota and South Dakota State College. Many believe that a reporter for the newspaper, knowing of the preponderance of jackrabbits in the Brookings area, wrote that the SDSC team was as quick as jackrabbits. Many people believe that the school adopted the Jackrabbits as its official nickname from that beginning.

The other theory about the origin of the nickname came in "The Jackrabbit", SDSU's yearbook. A poem in the 1907 yearbook puts forth the idea that the yearbook is called "The Jackrabbit" because a group of juniors wished to immortalize themselves by changing the name of the yearbook. Athletic teams followed suit, adopting the nickname.

Prior to the adoption of the Jackrabbit nickname, fans knew the school athletic teams as the Barn Yard Cadets, which made sense, because the school went by the name of South Dakota State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts in 1907.

The Jackrabbit can run at speeds of 30-to-35 miles per hour, with bursts up to 45, making it the second fastest animal in North America, second only to the pronghorn antelope, which can run at speeds up to 60 miles per hour.

Properly speaking, Jackrabbits should not be called rabbits but hares, with longer feet and longer ears than rabbits. Most hares live in open country, whereas rabbits - like cottontails - live in brushy habitats.

Jackrabbits can grow up to two feet long; weigh from six to nine pounds, with ears up to eight inches long. Hares do not eat meat; they eat tender herbs in the summer and woody twigs and bark in the winter.

In addition to playing four games on their 10-day trip to Brazil in August, the Jackrabbits spent plenty of time seeing the sights, which included a trip to the world renowned Christ Redeemer Statue, riding the gondolas to the top of Sugarloaf Mountain and plenty of time on Copacabana Beach in Rio de Janeiro.

The Jacks went 3-1 in the four games, with three dominant wins and the lone loss coming to one of the top professional teams in all of Brazil.
